

AXICA. EDUCATION

The AXICA team offers a creative person an apprenticeship as:

COOK

We operate a conference and congress center on Pariser Platz, directly at the Brandenburg Gate in Berlin. The extraordinary architecture is the location of many outstanding events. In addition, as a caterer, we also implement events at other unusual locations in Berlin.

Simply put, the requirements for the advertised position are interest in the job and reliability. We are looking for someone who suits us, with whom we can share our knowledge. Someone who wants to develop with us. The human being is important.

We expect: initiative, reliability and the rest is needless to say.

We offer: an exceptional location, a great team and responsible tasks.

We promise: a good and well-founded education from A-Z, which also includes the areas of sustainability and social responsibility.

Are you interested?

Then we look forward to receiving your application at jobs@axica.de!
